Education Trust
Partner Liaison: TBD

www.edtrust.org

The Education Trust engages in research and policy analysis, advocacy, and assistance to schools and districts to help align standards, curriculum and assessments and to improve teacher and counselor preparation (e.g. creation of local and state K-16 councils to align college admissions with K-12 standards and improve teacher preparation; creation of models for counselor preparation). The Ed Trust also broadly disseminates regular publications and reports related to standards and assessment, as well as teaching practice and professional development. For example, Ed Trust recently released its report, All Talk, No Action: Putting an End to Out-of-Field Teaching, which documents the disproportionate number of high-poverty, high-minority secondary school classes being taught by teachers without appropriate subject credentials.
