Partner Liaison: Robert S. Rivera, President and CEO

Project GRAD is a nonprofit education reform program currently serving 135,000 students in 211 of the nation’s most disadvantaged schools. GRAD is the only K-16 program that is delivering research-based results on a significant national scale. The mission of the program is to ensure a quality public education for all children in economically disadvantaged communities so that high school and college access rates increase. Serving as a bridge from high school achievement to postsecondary success, GRAD brings to all of its high schools a series of activities and services that focus on college preparation of GRAD students from economically disadvantaged communities across the nation.
