Partner Liaisons: Barbara Kapinus, Senior Policy Analyst and Program Consultant
Denise Alston, Senior Program Specialist

NEA represents over 2.7 million teachers and educational support staff. In addition to working for great public schools and the wages and working conditions that attract and support teachers, NEA has specific efforts related to closing the achievement gaps. The work on high school redesign and adolescent literacy fall under the umbrella of this priority. NEA promotes legislation to support great public schools, informs teachers and the public on education issues and possibilities, and provides resources to educators, parents and the public.
