Pathways to College Network, The Education Resources Institute

Partner Liaison: Ann Coles, Executive Director

www.pathwaystocollege.net

The Pathways to College Network aims to increase community-based education and outreach efforts and provide greater college access and opportunity to under-served students. As an alliance of foundations, non-profit organizations and educational institutions, the Pathways to College Network brings together leaders in educational policy and practice to examine and disseminate best practices in high school education and college preparation. Through its clearinghouse and with the help of its Research Scholars Panel, the Network identifies and disseminates research, toolkits and other resources.
